

The Pelican

The Pelican, the symbol of the University of the West Indies, is a Caribbean bird representing youth and the future. In mythology, the Pelican is used as a symbol of piety. It is particularly appropriate as one of its properties is that it wounds itself to feed its young.

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF JAMAICA

B/N

SHERLOCK, PHILIP SIR

*The Guild of Graduates of the University of the West Indies
(Jamaica Branch)*

Pelican Award Luncheon

in honour of

Sir Philip Sherlock, O.M., C.B.E.

Jamaica Pegasus Hotel
Friday, October 25, 1991

Menu

Cream of Pumpkin Soup

Baked Chicken du Chef

Château Potatoes

Broccoli au Beurre

with Carrots

Coconut Mousse in Ginger Sauce

Coffee / Tea

Programme

Welcome.....Mr. D.A. "Tony" Williamson
President, Guild of Graduates
Master of Ceremonies

Grace.....Reverend Father Louis Grenier
(Past President, Guild of Graduates)

* LUNCH *

Tribute in Song.....Mr. Ian Andrews
Member, University Singers

Citation.....Prof. Edward Baugh
Public Orator, U.W.I.

Presentation of Award.....Mrs. Beverley Pereira
Chairman, Guild of Graduates

Reply.....Sir Philip Sherlock, O.M., C.B.E.

Presentation to Lady Grace Sherlock.....Miss Bernadette Roman
Secretary, Guild of Graduates

Vote of Thanks.....Mrs. Nadine Marriott
Executive Member, Guild of Graduates

At the Piano - Mr. Hugh Moss-Solomon,
Executive Member, Guild of Graduates